⊘ Yes
◯ No

If Yes, please describe:

There is a requirement of the family to stay in the property as a lifetime home.

The side extension and reconfiguration internally causes a net increase of +1 bedroom only
- 2 bedrooms to the front elevation at first floor are being merged which gives a -1 nett loss of bedrooms
- The two side extension bedrooms +2. Are to provide accommodation requirements for the extended family +1 child - who stays on a part time basis with the step family.

This dwelling will be a lifetime home for the merged families.

The previous approvals and parking plans were passed on a 4 bed property providing 3 spaces for parking.
With the additional 1 nett room - this does not effect the properties requirements for spaces - Total capacity of 5 bedrooms still only require 3 off street spaces.

Therefore the proposals are fully conforming to SPP and highways guidance

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

☑ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.
