Notes

Attention is drawn to the attached notes:

1 Planning permission does not convey consent to work on or adjacent to the public highway. Prior to any works commencing on site, including demolition works, the developer must obtain the highway authority's consent.

The developer must obtain a license under Section 184 of the Highways Act 1980 before commencing any works on the highway. Details are available at:

2 The deposit of mud or other items, and/or the discharge of water, onto the public highway are offences under Sections 149 and 151, Highways Act 1980. The applicant, any contractors, and the owner/occupier of the land must therefore ensure that nothing is deposited on the highway, nor that any soil or refuse etc is washed onto the highway, from the site. Failure to prevent this may force the highway authority to take both practical and legal action (which may include prosecution) against the applicant/contractors/owner or occupier of the land.

3 The applicant is strongly urged to help meet the Government's commitments to achieve net-zero carbon emissions by 2050, and to meeting the NPPF's environmental objective of mitigating and adapting to meet climate change, including moving to a low carbon economy. Therefore, the applicant is strongly urged to include on-site renewable energy generation (e.g. solar panels), the de-carbonising of heating systems (e.g. air-/ground-source heat pumps) and enhanced levels of insulation beyond those required by present building standards.

Advice in relation to sustainable energy measures and any need for planning permission can be found at https://www.planningportal.co.uk/info/200125/do_you_need_permission

4 The proposed development lies within an area that has been defined by the Mining Remediation Authority as containing coal mining features at surface or shallow depth. These features may include: mine entries (shafts and adits); shallow coal workings; geological features (fissures and break lines); mine gas and former surface mining sites. Although such features are seldom readily visible, they can often be present and problems can occur, particularly as a result of new development taking place.

Any form of development over or within the influencing distance of a mine entry can be dangerous and raises significant land stability and public safety risks. As a general precautionary principle, the Mining Remediation Authority considers that the building over or within the influencing distance of a mine entry should be avoided. In exceptional circumstance where this is unavoidable, expert advice must be sought to ensure a suitable engineering design which takes account of all relevant safety and environmental risk factors, including mine gas and mine-water. Your attention is drawn to the Mining Remediation Authority Policy in relation to new development and mine entries available at:

Building on or within the influencing distance of mine entries - GOV.UK
Any intrusive activities which disturb or enter any coal seams, coal mine workings or coal mine entries (shafts and adits) requires a Mining Remediation Authority Permit. Such activities could include site investigation boreholes, excavations for foundations, piling activities, other ground works and any subsequent treatment of coal mine workings and coal mine entries for ground stability purposes. Application forms for Mining Remediation Authority permission and further guidance can be obtained from The Mining Remediation Authority's website at: www.gov.uk/get-a-permit-to-deal-with-a-coal-mine-on-your-property
What is a permit and how to get one? - GOV.UK (www.gov.uk)

In areas where shallow coal seams are present caution should be taken when carrying out any on site burning or heat focused activities.
If any future development has the potential to encounter coal seams which require excavating, for example excavation of building foundations, service trenches, development platforms, earthworks, non-coal mineral operations, an Incidental Coal Agreement will be required. Further information regarding Incidental Coal Agreements can be found here - https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/incidental-coal-agreement/guidance-notes-for-applicants-for-incidental-coal-agreements

If any coal mining features are unexpectedly encountered during development, this should be reported immediately to the Mining Remediation Authority on 0800 288 4242. Further information is available on the Mining Remediation Authority website at: Mining Remediation Authority - GOV.UK
